- 3) ¹⁰

4. The possibility of combining discounts, the basis of calculating and accounting the discount based on turnover

- 1) The basis of the calculation of the discount is the combined price, not reduced by discounts, of postal products/services described in paragraph a) of point 1.1 and in point 1.2 performed for the User in the current year the fee for which is settled by the User pursuant to the General Terms and Conditions for Postal Services by transfer (i.e. only by payment on credit or payment of postage using a franking machine; hereinafter 'gross turnover'). The discount system does not extend to the payment of postage by postage stamp or payment of postage using prepaid envelopes/postcards.
- 2) Special terms and conditions relating to Users belonging to a company group (hereinafter the whole of the company group referred to as 'Group of Users'):
 - a) The following organisations classified as business associations pursuant to the Act on civil procedure and other organisations (hereinafter 'business associations') may belong to a company group (group of organisations):

 - ab) which use a common lead word in their names referring to the user or another member of the User's company group, and are not independent of the User because under agreements concluded with the members of the company group the User or another member of the User's company group acts as their economic manager (which means that it is entitled to have a substantial and dominant influence on their financial/administrative/economic decisions) provided that the business associations that are part of the given company group and are regarded as such under this paragraph (not

- including the economic manager) are not classified as a business association under the Civil Code, or
- ac) whose operating mechanisms, scope of activities and core business activities are basically the same and which, while maintaining their organisational independence, have proprietary rights directly or indirectly in a business association as defined in the Civil Code which is regarded as a User and centrally arranges purchases as well as technical, operational and development affairs of the same nature for the members of the company group in a way that they do not perform such activities by way of business for business associations other than those that are part of the company group, or
- ad) in respect of which the User is classified under the Civil Code as a business association and is entitled to control or co-ordinate the professional or financial/economic activity of any other members of the company group (group of organisations) established for the purposes of performing special tasks as defined in the relevant legislation, or
- ae) which are classified as domestic business associations under the Civil Code in each of which the same natural person or domestic or foreign registered business association not classified as a User has, either directly or indirectly, a share of the ownership of at least 25% taking into account the actual ownership stakes (through a foreign business association or domestic registered business association that is part of the given group).
- b) A further condition of using the discount system is that all business associations stated in the contract regulating the use of the postal service(s) approve the clause forming part of the said contract which supports the fact of belonging to a company group. (Should a business association fail to approve the clause, that particular business association's turnover for the current year will not be included in the turnover of the Group of Users in the year in question.)
- c) The annual gross turnover performed by Users with a company group shall be taken into account as the consolidated gross turnover of the Group of Users.
- d) ⁻¹¹
